

Jim Heath BA QTS

MARPROF

the marine professionals

Partner at Marprof Environmental Ltd.

Years Professional Experience: 18

Ship Recycling

Asbestos

Training &
WorkshopsRegulatory
Compliance

Profile

Jim co-founded Marprof Environmental Ltd. in March 2018, following 15 years at Lloyd's Register Group (LR) in a variety of roles, culminating in Principal Ship Recycling Specialist.

Jim was responsible for strategic and business development, and technical leadership and support relating to LR's ship recycling services including EU List and IMO ship recycling facility assessments; audits during recycling; and Inventory of Hazardous Materials (IHM) certification.

In addition to providing bespoke ship recycling consultancy services for shipowners, recycling facilities, and other key stakeholders, Jim was responsible for developing associated technical procedures, including LR's survey procedures, in line with industry standards and legislation.

Jim has delivered advanced Ship Recycling, IHM, and Ship Recycling Plan training courses and workshops across Europe, and at recycling facilities in Turkey, China and India.

From 2014 onwards he was LR's representative at the SSI (Sustainable Shipping Initiative) for the Labour Standards in Shipbreaking and the Closed Loop Materials Management work streams and was the IACS (International Association of Classification Societies) ship recycling representative to the IMO and the EU.

Qualifications and Training

BA (Hons), QTS (Primary/Middle)

Relevant Experience / Expertise

- Principal Specialist – Ship Recycling
 - LR representative at International Chamber of Shipping Industry Working Group on Ship Recycling
 - Associate Board Member at ISRA (International Ship Recycling Association)
 - Co-delivered world's first Green Passport certification, and subsequently the first IHM in accordance with IMO & EU requirements
 - Project managed and delivered world's first ship recycling facility certification in accordance with EU Regulation 1257/2013
 - Co-author of 'A Guide to the IHM'
 - Qualified Teacher Status attained between 1992 and 1996.

FULL CV AVAILABLE ON REQUEST